

Once upon a time, in a small country, in a small town...

There was this gentleman on his way to seniority, and those two amazingly spry thirty somethings:

Ludwig von Wahnsinn, Admiral von Genial, Herr Amadeus von Krank;
AKA Wannes, Nicolaas, Angelo.

One sunny afternoon they watched a tape of Radio Soulwax: This is Belgium Part 1 and the three friends decided to cover stories: 100 BPM, digital, atonal.

No sooner said than done... They started planning and dreaming.

The initial steps stammered; it was mainly a search for hidden corners and a trying out what no one else had tried out before. The first cover, Fad Gadget 's Back to nature, was dumped, after a cartload of hard labour.

Step by step the three friends discovered the World of VON PLASTIK, in a synergistic trip, full of wonder, inventiveness, enthusiasm, fun, ecstasy, "quality time", and - unfortunately - hellish friction.

Note by note, riff by riff, sound by sound made VON PLASTIK grow to what VON PLASTIK became, and to what Ludwig, Admiral and Herr Amadeus wanted VON PLASTIK to be.
